

Scholarship

2012 Assessment Report

Te Reo Māori

COMMENTARY

Candidates who attained outstanding scholarship were able to substantiate their ideas, opinions and arguments with comprehensive clarity. They were able to demonstrate through critical reflection of the reading and the listening passages a fluid response in the written and spoken components of the examination. Candidates who attained scholarship were able to provide consistent details for their ideas, opinions and arguments. They were able to link their understanding of the reading and listening passages to the written and spoken components of the examination.

SCHOLARSHIP WITH OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE

Candidates who were awarded Scholarship with Outstanding Performance typically:

- constructed a well-structured piece of writing underpinned by a Māori worldview
- provided an alternative or original perspective
- exhibited a command of the language evident in the variation of structures, proverbial sayings employed throughout the oral and written responses
- demonstrated a sound understanding of the listening comprehension evident in the clarity of expression and types of responses provided
- made very few grammatical errors.

SCHOLARSHIP

Candidates who were awarded Scholarship but not Scholarship with Outstanding Performance typically:

- constructed a well-structured piece of writing underpinned by a Māori worldview
- exhibited a command of the language evident in the variation of structures
- demonstrated an understanding of the listening comprehension evident in the types of responses provided
- made some grammatical errors.

OTHER CANDIDATES

Candidates who were not awarded Scholarship typically:

- constructed some writing
- exhibited some knowledge of the language
- demonstrated some understanding of the listening comprehension
- made several grammatical errors
- demonstrated an inability to vocalise, accent, articulate te reo Māori correctly.